maddies.makeupmess Happy Hump Day 🍀 When @iglamour_aus really know how to treat a girl and her hair right!! Thank you so much to Catherine for sending all of these gorgeous products my way! I've been testing them out for almost 2 months now and I have noticed the biggest difference in the condition of my hair! Despite going from blonde to brunette I still find the violet toning drops and the platinum conditioner to be really helpful at keeping the redness from my new hair colour! My hair instantly wants to gravitate to red but these products from @keracolorhair have kept it at bay! The Not Your Mother's Naturals products not only smell amazing but make my hair feel so soft! The leave in conditioner spray have been a game changer for me! My hair smells great and feels the softest it's ever felt! If you guys are looking for some new products I would definitely recommend you try some of these! I'm yet to try the red snail mask from @doublearespa but I think I might try it tonight or this long weekend, I'm in need of a full hair and body pamper session! I'll be sure to show you what it looks like and how it feels on my skin!
