EYE SPY

If you crave daytime drama, try a blue and white eye shadow combo like Revlon spokesperson Emma Stone's. Set your base with a light powder foundation and sculpt cheeks with rosy hues. Then get to work on the eyes with a slick of blue and a cream shade blended on top to create a washed-out effect. Next, use white shadow around the lashlines, top and bottom, and finish with a darker liner - applied from the outer corner of the eye, stopping just past the iris. Finally, apply mascara to top lashes only.

GET TWISTED

This style is chic and easy to steal! Scrunch hair using a beach spray. Take two sections of hair along the crown, keeping a few tresses loose around the face. Where the ends meet, twist one over the other to create a cross - secure with bobby pins. Finish the look with a nude lip gloss.

FAKE FLUTTER

False lashes are a must for attention-grabbing eyes. Start by curling real lashes and coating with mascara. Then smooth on lash strips as close as possible to your lashline and add liquid eyeliner over the top, where the lashes are attached, to disguise where they've been glued on.
