Bold

The larger and more structured your headpiece, the less hair that should be on show. A simple low ponytail or bun is the perfect style to complement your millinery masterpiece. But if you're going for a crown, soften your look with loose curls. Use a curling tool to create soft waves from your eye level to your ends, before brushing out. Finish both looks with a light mist of hair spray to hold your style and nix frizz.

Hats

Stay sun-safe and super chic in a structured hat. If you're choosing a wide-brimmed or tall option, keep your hair up and away from your face. Not only will this keep you cool, it'll show off more of your face and balance out your look. Smaller hats look great with voluminous hair on either side of your face, so use styling products that give you big, bouncy strands, and add a touch of hair spray after blow-drying with a round brush. For a voluminous ponytail, use the same method before tying your hair up loosely at the base of your neck.
