Up-Do

From the bun to the ponytail, these celebrities show us how to rework the classics

Go big with your bun

Each season the classic chignon changes slightly with stars sporting a fresh new way to wear it - we're loving how Blake Lively has taken it big! DIY by creating a sleek, side-parted pony at the nape of your neck and fold loose locks up, securing with pins. Add a bun piece and smooth hair over the top, tucking ends up and under.

Style your pony high

Make like Poppy Delevingne and pull your pony up super high for an instant face lift! All it takes is dry shampoo, a hair band and a teasing brush. Leave some strands loose to cover the elastic and ensure you tease the base of the ponytail only, brushing lightly over the top and spreading the leftover hair around to your ears.

Braid and tuck

Trust Cate Blanchett to take her up-do to the next level with a braid pulled into a low tuck, giving a cute, casual style a sophisticated spin. Simply section off your locks, braid back in a line above your ear and follow to the nape of your neck. Smooth the remaining hair into a low pony and tuck under before securing with bobby pins.
